

The World Health Organization (WHO) and respective governments have reported a total of 24,701 suspected cases and 10,194 deaths, though the WHO believes that this substantially understates the magnitude of the outbreak. In the United States there has been 4 reported cases and 1 deaths.